

How to Overcome a Bad Constipation

There is a Mild Laxative That Will Bring Safe and Pleasant Relief Over Night.

It is only natural that the simplest of ailments should be the most general, and so we have a whole nation suffering from constipation and indigestion, for they are closely allied. But common as constipation is many people do not seem to know they have it. They will complain of headache, drowsiness or biliousness all unconscious of the cause of the trouble.

You should have a full and free movement at least once a day. If you pass a day you are constipated, and the result will be that you will catch a cold easily or have a more serious ailment. To cure the constipation and forestall still greater trouble take a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night before retiring and by morning relief will come, without disturbance from sleep or any inconvenience.

Legions of people use it regularly in such emergencies, some of them formerly chronic invalids who had suffered from constipation all their lives. Mrs. N. Prantz, 47 Eighth St., El Paso, Ohio, took Pepsin for years, and, worst of all, without much avail. Finally, she began to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and today she is no longer troubled and eats what she likes. Many others will tell you that they have tried most things recommended for this purpose but have found Syrup Pepsin the only one always reliable. A bottle can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by families already familiar with its merits.

Syrup Pepsin is mild, pleasant-tasting and non-staining, and yet it is effective in growing up. It is for everyone who suffers from any form of stomach, liver or bowel trouble, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, etc. Its action will so delight you that you will forever avoid harsh cathartics, purgatives, pills and salts.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

PROGRESS HAS PUT FOOT DOWN ON HOP TRADE

Introduction of Modern Farming Has Dealt Death Blow to Opium Business in Populous Chinese Province.

PLANTS WILL BE DESTROYED YOUNG

(By Associated Press.) Amoy, China, Feb. 10.—With the development of civilization along western lines the isolated province of Fukien is rapidly undergoing important changes. It may soon be imagined that a chunk has been taken out of New England or some other farming region of the United States and laid down in China, for there are increasing evidences that fields once wholly devoted to the poppy will be turned over to potatoes and corn.

Progress has put its foot down on the opium business. Outside of China there are probably few persons who realize how great a blow this action has dealt at a means of subsistence to a province whose resources were already overtaxed to maintain its crowded population. Opium has always brought a good price in local markets and formed an important source of the farmer's revenue. It is small wonder that campaigns against the drug have met with armed resistance.

Spontaneous and reckless destruction of full grown crops came last year with such a suddenness that farmers were not conscious that the government was in earnest until they saw their entire season's work lost. This year a new method is to be tried. Instead of waiting until the plants are grown and then destroying the crops, the government has served notice that all opium plants will be destroyed as soon as they appear in the field. In many instances the summary destruction of the crop last year caused riot and bloodshed, but the notices this year seem to be convincing farmers that the government means business, and the destruction of the young plants already under way has not caused the strife which resulted last year. The new policy is meeting with the approval of the farmers, and once they see that they must give up the poppy they are turning to indigo, potatoes and corn.

Another change, a little less tangible, but none the less marked, is the new spirit of freedom. During the revolution Fukienese men and money were not lacking to do the province's part in the overthrow of the hated Manchu government. But, that accomplished, trusting that a clean government would be organized by the "patriots" who were clamoring for reform, the people of Fukien settled down to business, and the general desire has been for peace and quiet.

There are always lawless bands wandering about the country back of Amoy and Foochow. Their numbers vary with local conditions, an unfavorable crop reducing the country people almost to starvation and augmenting the number of outlaws. It was such a band which recently pillaged a village near Chao-an, in the southern part of the province, and was reported to have destroyed the American mission chapel there. While the mission chapel was unharmed, the pillaging illustrates the difficulties with which the local populace must contend. In the Hingwa district, about eighty miles from Foochow, the city of Tohwa has been the scene of fresh disturbances and, for the time being, no foreigners are allowed to travel there.

The fact that Fukien is practically isolated from its neighboring provinces, shut in by high mountain ranges, and dependent upon coolies and pack animals for transport to the interior, has driven the Fukienese to the sea. The island of Formosa lying directly opposite the province was colonized by Fukienese seafarers long ago, the success of which enterprise has encouraged the merchants to extend their zone of operations until the southern coast of Asia as far as the Malay peninsula and most of the southern islands are now dotted with Fukienese colonies.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT SODALITY CONCERT

The concert given last night at St. Mary's hall under the auspices of the Married Ladies' Sodality of the Immaculate Conception parish, was largely attended and proved one of the most enjoyable musical events of the season in Albuquerque. The numbers included music by several of Albuquerque's best known artists and one or two who have not appeared in concert here before. These latter included Mr. James A. Blalock, manager of the Interstate Casualty and Guaranty company, whose rich baritone voice is certain to prove a large addition to future musical events. The program throughout was excellent.

PRESENTATIONS AT COURT WILL CEASE

Gates Closed Against Further Applicants Who Wish to Meet Their Majesties at Buckingham Palace.

QUEEN MARY MUST HAVE HER UMBRELLA

(By Associated Press.) London, Feb. 9.—The gates are closed against any more applicants for presentation to their majesties at Buckingham palace this year. The lord chamberlain has announced that the lists are full, which will doubtless mean a lot of disappointed social debutantes from America in London this season.

Four courts are ordinarily held each year, two early in February just after the opening of parliament, and two in late May or early June. Last year, owing to the large number entitled to presentation, a fifth was held but at such great inconvenience that it is hoped to avoid a repetition this year. To these courts all the official and diplomatic world receive the command to attend, and English ladies, who themselves have been presented, have the privilege of asking for a command for some debutante friend.

Formerly these commands could be asked for by a lady not a British subject, and in this way many Americans were presented by English friends. During King Edward's reign, however, it was decided that all foreign ladies should be presented through their embassies. As the embassies have only four invitations, outside the diplomatic circles, in which only ladies of the embassies and legations and their near relatives are admitted, it is easy to realize the demand that has been made on the embassies for the privilege of being presented. Strictly speaking, the four extra invitations are personal to the ambassador or minister, but in some cases requests for presentations have been made through the authorities of the country, which the ambassador represents.

This question of distributing the four invitations is one of the most trying that the social secretary of an embassy has to deal with. He receives hundreds of requests, all or mostly all from people of equal merit, and must make an early selection. Th rejected are his sworn enemies thereafter. However, this year he can point to the lord chamberlain's notification that the lists are full.

Rain or shine, Queen Mary must have her umbrella, the habit being so confirmed that she often feels lost without it indoors. This peculiarity has become conspicuous through the recent incident at Norwich where the queen insisted upon carrying her umbrella and obtain the royal prerogative of walking through the museum "fully equipped for the possibility of the blowing off of the roof coinciding with a heavy shower."

No matter what the occasion, unless it be some very formal official ceremony, the queen invariably carries a neatly folded umbrella, despite the fact that she always drives in a covered carriage and whenever she stops anywhere a canopy is provided. Princess Mary has the same umbrella habit as her mother. Queen Victoria likewise was always seen with a parasol or umbrella, but she always had hers open, and it was said that it was lined with chain mail to ward off attempts on her life by bomb throwers.

The romantic career of the Coats family, the thread millionaires, has been running to its end with the death of no fewer than five members during the past two years. Last member has left a large fortune through which the British exchequer has been enriched by a total of some $9,000,000.

The death of James Coats in March, 1912, left a fortune of nearly $10,000,000, without any provisions for its disposition; six months later Archibald Coats passed away, leaving a sum of nearly $7,000,000; in January, 1913, Sir James Coats died, leaving nearly $9,500,000, and a few weeks later P. M. Coats a son of Sir James, died, leaving $1,000,000. The fifth death, which was that of Peter Coats in September, left another fortune of $12,000,000, making the total fortune of the deceased over $34,000,000. None of the Coats left anything to charity but during their lifetime they had been generous givers.

STATE RETAILERS WILL PROBABLY MEET IN JULY
Raton, N. M., Feb. 7.—Raton has about decided to make the date of the New Mexico Retailers' association convention, to be held here, in the month of July, and is already laying plans to make this one of the most successful business gatherings ever held in the southwest.

President M. H. Mendelson, of the Business Men's association, is in receipt of a letter from the Roswell association, making the suggestion that Raton, who is host to the 1914 convention of the state associations, set the date for the convention some time in July, a few days previous to the holding of the B. P. O. E. national convention in Denver. Roswell will send a delegation of at least 15 automobile loads to the Denver convention, and the above arrangement will allow the delegation to attend the state convention in Raton while en route. This appeals to the local association as a most excellent arrangement, especially in view of the fact that Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Las Vegas and other New Mexico cities will be traveling Denverward about the same time. Every effort is going to be made to give the visiting guests from all over the state a royal welcome.

ROSWELL RETAILERS PLAN GET-TOGETHER BANQUET
Roswell, N. M., Feb. 7.—At the regular monthly business meeting of the Roswell Retailers and Business Men's association it was unanimously decided to have a banquet some time soon and have a general talk about business conditions, credits and such other matters as might come up. The date was not set.

While the association does not hold many meetings, this is because Secretary Sam S. Toms is always on the job, and has tab on every one asking for credit. Never before have the business men saved so much on bad accounts as in the past year.

Among other things discussed was the general shop-lifting and breaking into stores over the city. It is known that practically all of this is being done by boys and girls. The association at their next meeting expect to offer a standing reward of $25 to the officer arresting and convicting any criminals.

The latest shop-lifting case was at Amonett's. He had thirteen boxes of pocketknives on a shelf. In the evening Mr. Amonett noticed that a knife had been taken out of each box. Others the last week have noticed articles that had been on the counter missing.

Another thing the association is trying to do, is to make some arrangements to have a garnishment law passed at the next session of the legislature.

TOWN BOOSTING DEMINGITES WILL TELL ALAMOGORDO HOW IT'S DONE

Delegation of Business Men to Be Entertained by Commercial Club of Otero County Town February 17.

STARTLING STUNTS AT PRELIMINARY

Carlsbad Commercial Club Board Elects Tracy President and Gets Into Harness; State Retailers Meet in July.

(Special Telegram to Evening Herald.) Alamogordo, N. M., Feb. 8.—A bunch of Deming boosters is coming to Alamogordo on February 17 to tell the people here how Deming got rich and famous and populous, the idea being that Alamogordo may go and do likewise. Preparation for the entertainment of this delegation will be perfected at a smoker to be held by the local business men Tuesday night, which is going to be a hum-mixer. The Tuesday night meeting will be a talkfest extraordinary, with some really sensational stunts.

Col. W. R. Eldson, as presiding officer and present of the club, will naturally have the floor to start with and will give a little talk on "The advantage of a bird's-eye view map in attracting the docks." He will also do a few sleight of hand tricks to get the boys in good humor and will take a green advertising folder and change it into a mint sheet of five dollar bills, right before the gaze of the astonished members.

Senator John Bowman will be there with a little talk on "Why my weights and measures bill has not decreased the high cost of living." And in view of Senator Laughlin later being a guest of the club he will also speak on "What my distinguished colleague likes best to drink."

Charlie Mitchell will make a little speech on the "Advantages of a regional bank for Alamogordo, and how to get it."

J. H. McElwee will be there with the goods on "How the Forest Service discovers and computes stumps."

There may be other talks that will hold the hearers interested until a late hour, so come and have a cigar and enjoy yourself.

The meeting last Tuesday night was attended by about twenty and some discussion was indulged in as to the best methods for advertising this section of New Mexico and how to provide the standbys with the least degree of pain to the contributors. It may be thought that the meeting was not productive of much good, but such is not the case, for out of last Tuesday evening's meeting something tangible may come.

CARLSBAD COMMERCIAL CLUB GETS INTO GAME.

Carlsbad, Feb. 7.—The new board of the Carlsbad commercial club met yesterday afternoon and organized for the year with Francis G. Tracy as president and Frank H. Richards as secretary. This board was elected for business and they went right into the harness. The matter of publicity was taken up and settled by giving the president an allowance for employing help to carry on regular publicity work.

The most important and far-reaching action taken was in regard to the order recently issued by the secretary of the interior for a complete survey of the Pecos river to determine the available water supply for irrigation purposes. After a full discussion the club decided unanimously to take a brand stand for the development of the entire Pecos valley. The following resolution was adopted and ordered sent to Secretary Lane and Assistant Secretary A. A. Jones.

Resolved, That the Carlsbad commercial club hereby endorses the policy of federal control of interstate streams in cooperation with the United States affected thereby for the purpose of giving equal rights and opportunities to all irrespective of state lines and that all unappropriated water may be utilized at the earliest possible time and for the fullest possible development of the respective water sheds.

That the members of this organization speaking for the citizens of this community approve the announcement of the honorable secretary of the interior that a full and complete survey of the Rio Pecos water shed is to be made in the near future to the end that all of its available waters may be applied to the beneficial use, thereby making effective plans long cherished by us in the development of the Pecos valley.

That it is particularly gratifying to the settlers under the Carlsbad project that this survey is to be made, because the development of the entire water shed of the Rio Pecos was one of the primary reasons which induced the citizens of this project to come under the provisions of the reclamation act. Be it further,

Resolved, That we express our appreciation of and our hearty approval of the attitude of the reclamation service towards the settlers under the various projects brought about by the knowledge and the sympathy of the honorable secretary of the interior as to western conditions and the necessity of hearty cooperation between the government and the settlers under the several projects.

That we are in hearty accord with the spirit prompting the enactment into law of the proposed reclamation extension act, but venture to hope that in some details it may be changed, imposing on the settler fewer restrictions and offering still more freedom to work out the problems of developing the arid west without impairing the security of the government for its outlay in building the irrigation works.

MAXWELL MAN HAS HIS LEG BROKEN IN BAD RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

the knee and his left leg badly bruised in a runaway accident Monday noon. Tuesday he was taken to Ordway, Colo., where he has made his home for the past year with his daughter.

Mr. Clark arrived in town Friday to look after his farm here, and to get things in shape for spring. He intended to stay but a few days. Monday he was out to the place, and started to walk to town. On the way in he got a ride with Norton Forbes, who was driving one of Harry Corry's team in a hay rack. The team became frightened at a hay baling machine in front of Charles Davis' place and started to run. At the first jump they left the street and the wagon struck the hitching post. Mr. Clark was sitting on the edge of the rack with his legs hanging over, and when the rack struck the post his legs were crushed between them. The team headed for the livery barn, and on the way crossed a ditch, throwing Mr. Forbes from the wagon. Mr. Clark remained on the wagon until the team was stopped almost at the barn door.

RATON IS GROWING SPLENDIDLY, SAYS DR. LUKENS

Albuquerque Man Much Impressed by Progressiveness; New Municipal Water Plant to Be Installed.

"The city of Raton is pushing forward commercially at a most rapid rate," said Dr. C. E. Lukens today. Dr. Lukens has just returned from the Gate City where he went to place in a home one of the little waifs whom the Children's Home society is caring. Dr. Lukens was much impressed with the aggressive enterprise of the Raton business men and the way the city is developing.

"Dr. Shuker, one of the best mayors any town ever had, is working unceasingly for civic betterment," said Dr. Lukens.

"One of his most notable achievements has been the floating of a $200,000 bond issue for a municipal waterworks system. The mayor, accompanied by E. L. Bleckley, city attorney, and Floyd Haner, city clerk, has just returned from Denver, where the party arranged for the sale of the bonds and the beginning of construction work by a contracting firm on the water supply system. The old system, owned by outside capital, has long been a source of dissatisfaction and the people are looking forward to a new one which will furnish unlimited pure water and plenty of pressure even to the higher parts of the city. A matter now being discussed is the arbitrating of the physical valuation of the old water plant. It is said the present owners have strongly opposed the bond issue. Their franchise has about three years to run. I understand. It is said that if the owners of the old plant do not listen to a physical valuation proposition, the city will build an entirely new system with at least two large reservoirs. It is estimated by Mayor Shuker that the net earnings of the municipal plant will be $15,000 per year, which used as a sinking fund would pay off the bond issue at maturity and leave a surplus of $150,000. It is pointed out that if the net earnings were applied to city expenses there would be no need of a tax levy for city expenses.

Much Building.
"There is considerable building going on in Raton. C. F. Remberg is erecting a fine business block on Second street and just across the street Walter O'Brien has asked for bids for the construction of a building 25x140 feet to be used as a hay and grain and general produce store. W. H. Mendelsohn has under way large improvements for his department store, which will give nearly double the floor space and also the remodeling of the corner store building with a frontage of fifty by sixty feet. The building is now occupied by Messrs. Haner and Vaughn. The new county high school building, erected at a cost of $50,000 is to be dedicated February 12. The Home Mill and Lumber company plant, which was destroyed by fire about two weeks ago, will be rebuilt at once, at a cost of from $15,000 to $20,000. The Santa Fe shops have been renewed with a full force of men."

A Splendid Public Library.
"Raton's splendid public library, under the care of Miss Myrtle M. Cole, librarian, and Miss Evelyn Shuler, assistant, has shown a record in its comparatively short existence. The number of books is as yet only 3,224, yet the circulation in February was 1,465. In the past six months the circulation has been two books per capita. Three books per capita is considered phenomenal while Fort Worth, Tex., for instance, can show but a circulation of one per capita. The percentage of fiction has gradually decreased from 50 per cent to 45 per cent."

"All in all, Raton is a live, progressive, hustling, attractive little city and is growing in size and importance as rapidly as any city in the southwest."
